

Prologue

Education, from time immemorial, has been the fulcrum around which the troika of society, polity and culture have prospered. Law, on the other hand, has been enjoined to not only maintain an equitable balance within this troika but also to ensure that the troika truly delivers what it is supposed to deliver for the greater good of humanity. By implication then, the quality of legal education is but a clear barometer of the advancement of a nation since law is considered as the first act of human wisdom. Hence, it is not a matter of coincidence that the leadership of Bihar strove to establish an institution of quality legal education – in its efforts to restore the pride and glory of this holy land and its ethos which not only saw the earliest civilization and polity but also institutions of learning that attracted scholars and students from across the world. The Chanakya National Law University is but a tribute to that ethos and an expression of the determination to revive the past glory.

The challenges for individual institutions and national higher education systems in this global environment will depend upon the social, economic, political and cultural development in developing nations. In the State of Bihar, where the seeds of the earliest republic were sown and the crop of democracy cultivated, a need was felt by the government for a university which would provide quality legal education and strive to raise national legal standards to competitive international level and promote legal awareness in the community and to inculcate social responsibility which will lead to the realization of goals embodied in the Constitution of India.

The Undergraduate programme of the University will be specifically geared to the current requirements of the judiciary and the legal profession, such as the techniques of advocacy, lawyering, arbitration, mediation, conciliation and legal and legislative drafting and familiarity with the judicial process. It will aim to inculcate in the young minds of students an analytical, innovative, critical and socially relevant, yet pragmatic, understanding, interpretation and application of law. The world of higher education in the 21st century can truly be a borderless world of knowledge and ideas, which will yield reciprocal benefits for all nations.
